

Quantum Mechanics

Multi electron atoms

Problem 1.- Give a rationale of why the ground state of lithium has its three electrons in s-states and not one in a p-state.

Solution: Electrons in higher angular momentum states have more energy than s-states due to screening of the nucleus charge by the interior electrons, so the 2s state has lower energy than the 2p state.