

Figure 27: Ferroelectric fraction of niobium clusters measured at 16 K and 72 kV/cm. Filled squares are odd clusters, open circles are even clusters. The accuracy from counting statistics is 5.3% or better.